SENG
TECHNICAL SERVICES, INC.

If we do not have the right person for you, then we will advertise for one, conducting extensive interviews and tests before recommending the most qualified applicant.

Besides saving you the cost of recruiting, STS handles all payroll costs and responsibilities—including unemployment insurance, worker's compensation and FICA. At the same time, we offer a fringe benefit package to any employees contracted for long-term work.

Providing the Right People With the Right Skills

If you have special projects, fluctuating work loads or any other tasks which require temporary assistance, then SENC Technical Services is the choice for you. Since 1981, STS has provided highly trained long- and short-term contract personnel to businesses throughout the eastern Carolinas. We help you find the right people with the right skills, at the lowest possible cost. This is done at your convenience and according to your specifications.

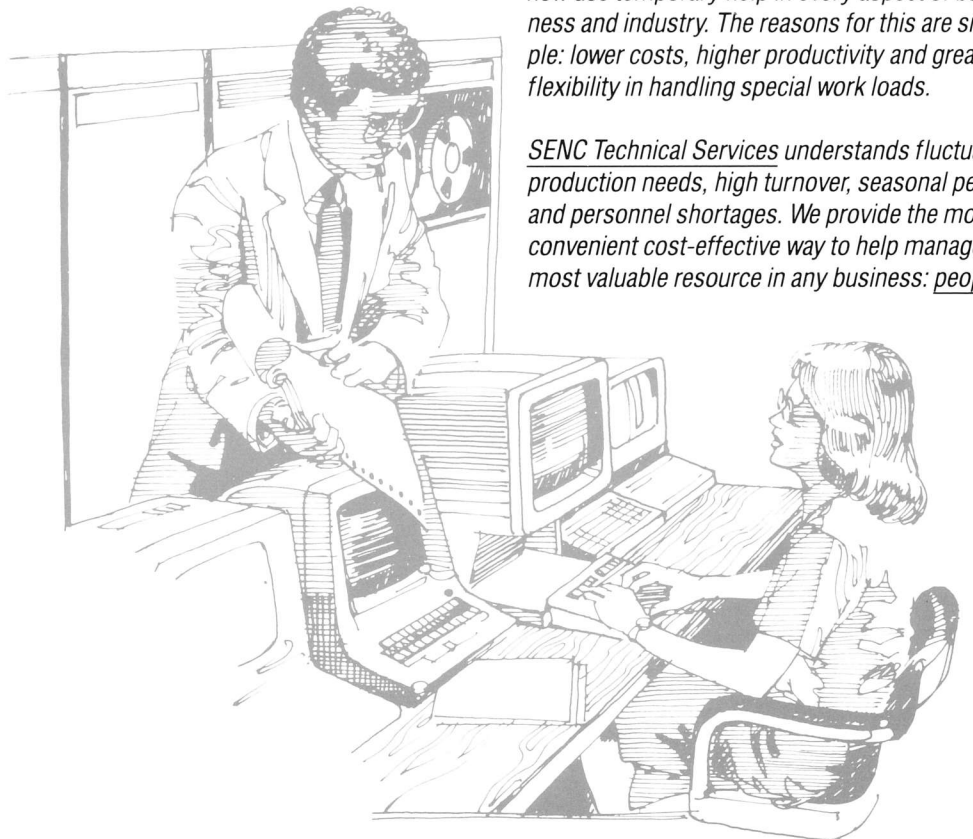

Why Use Temporary and Contract Personnel?

The majority of America's leading companies now use temporary help in every aspect of business and industry. The reasons for this are simple: lower costs, higher productivity and greater flexibility in handling special work loads.

SENC Technical Services understands fluctuating production needs, high turnover, seasonal peaks and personnel shortages. We provide the most convenient cost-effective way to help manage the most valuable resource in any business: people.

What Does STS Offer?
